MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Resources Division, ORR

25X1A

ATTENTION : [REDACTED] R/FU
THROUGH : Chief, Requirements Branch, Reconnaissance Group, CGS
FROM : Chief, CIA/PID (NPIC)
SUBJECT : Determine if there is a Petroleum Refinery in or near Nanking, China
REFERENCES : (1) ORR Requirement No. C-RR4-81,713
(2) CIA/PID Project No. C 1345/64

1. This memorandum is forwarded in answer to the above mentioned requirement which requested confirmation of a petroleum refinery in or near Nanking, China. Photographic enlargements of selected storage tanks in the Nanking, China area were also requested.

2. As per request, the following enlargements were selected and are enclosed.

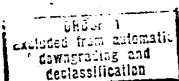

- a. Petroleum Refinery Nanking, China (4 enlargements)
- b. POL Storage Nanking, China (2 enlargements)
- c. Storage Tanks Nanking, China (4 enlargements)

3. The Nanking Petroleum Refinery is located along the south bank of the Yangtze River approximately 9 nautical miles northeast of Nanking, China at geographic coordinates 32° 10'N - 118° 55'E (See CIA/PID/IB-P-1285, 1286, 1287 and 1298/64). From the photography of [REDACTED] it would appear that operational equipment at the refinery consists of two crude heaters and three fractionating towers. The refining area is small in relation to the size of the overall complex which is composed of warehousing, tankage, housing and unidentified processing buildings. On the photography of [REDACTED] this complex appears as only ground scarring, a few buildings and ten storage tanks.

The storage tanks (See CIA/PID/IB-P-1288 and 1289/64) do not give the appearance of POL storage facilities but lend themselves more to product storage for the industrial installation adjacent to them.
